Operations Director

Agritopia

Katie Critchley is the Operations Director for Agritopia, a 166-acre mixed use development featuring a multi-generational village community centered around an 11 acre urban farm plus newly designed retail and luxury apartment Epicenter. The neighborhood consists of over 1,000 residents in single family homes reminiscent of the mid-west in the 1950s, as well as 117 assisted-living dwellings, elementary and middle schools with sports fields, multiple restaurants, wine bar, and more.
