SCAD

I am incredibly grateful to have had the opportunity to apply for the NEWH scholarship. Thank you for your consideration and active support. Through interior design, I will serve and uplift others through well-designed positive spaces. My personal journey has taken me through many of life's highs and lows. It's my design philosophy that success stems from being unafraid to fail. After graduating high school I was admitted to Savannah College of Art and Design where I completed my BA in Communications. During the first few months of the pandemic, I had a realization that your environment has a direct effect on your mental health. Making this connection was a pivotal moment in my life. I am now in my Jr. year at Savannah College of Art and Design graduating in 2024. My education in the Interior design program is unparalleled, I am grateful to work alongside talented peers and extraordinary professors as I begin my journey into the industry. I enjoy interior design because it allows me to think critically and understand design from different points of view. I choose this career because life is about experiencing the world and the environment around you. I want to provide spaces that promote equality, value, and uplift my community.

Congratulations

By embracing the colorful Atlanta story and all those who have shaped it, the space creates a tangible bond within the community. By inviting visitors to step into the shoes of a high-tech engineer, or a change maker of Atlanta, every visitor will be empowered to achieve more. THE EXPERIENCE: "I See You" Exude inclusivity within the urban energy found in the city of Atlanta. Intown Golf Club Buckhead Atlanta

The concept for the first Intown Golf Club creates a community for individuals sharing a passion for golf, attracting members with limited time to play on a course, wanting to improve their game, or to be part of a distinctive club. "Luxury & Convenience": The interior design elevates the experience around indoor golf simulators by creating a solution revolving around social interaction. Members travel through open and compressed spaces, creating environments that feel warm, comfortable, and sophisticated. Simulators are blended into the design by offsetting the technology with the creative use of luxurious materials. Each club location will showcase a large, dynamic bar designed as a striking focal point inspired by a local course (such as The Masters scoreboard at Augusta National). A strong brand presence is created with unexpected moments, including "golf cues and touchpoints" to be seen and felt throughout the design of millwork, seating and tables.

Reynolds Lake Oconee Richland Pointe Amenities

"Come to a place where culinary and wellness meet on the lake." Amenities for members of this residential development on Lake Oconee are designed to reinforce a welcoming lifestyle of good health, good friends, and good for the environment. The boutique design of this restaurant, wellness center, pools and green space absorbs the beautiful lake views, intending to blend open-air community with high-tech wellness.

Drawing inspiration from the outdoor lifestyle and boathouse architecture, the design embraces the energy flowing from the lake. Warm, wormy-maple panels in the lobby welcome members with lantern-inspired pendant lights and curated artwork. The 52-foot long indoor/outdoor bar is the focal-point, providing optimal views of the lake and opening to the event lawn. Half-moon framed mirrors featured above the channel-tufted booths reflect beautiful daytime and nighttime views to the lake. A canopy of lights dangles above the dining room like fireflies on a warm southern evening.

Battle House Renaissance Hotel
Mobile, AL

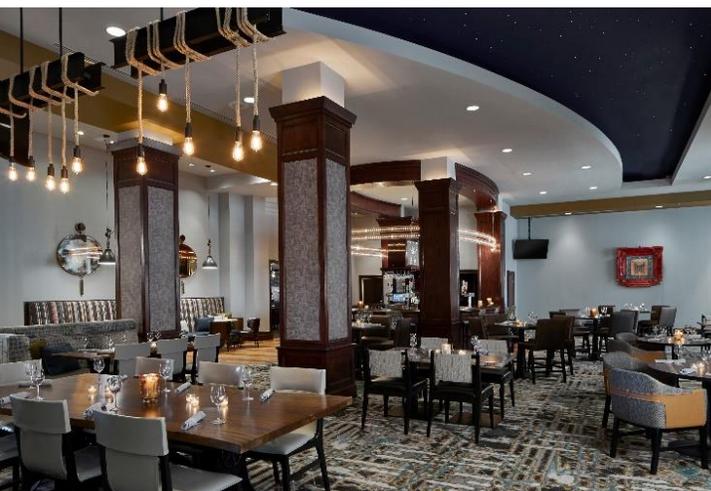

Originally opened in 1852, the Battle House continues to enchant each guest immediately upon arrival. Entering the lobby, delighted faces look up to see the spectacular domed ceiling of tiffany glass that embraces the fusion of past and present. Looking around one imagines the history that she has seen, from noted guests of the likes of Oscar Wilde. The atmosphere gives each guest a sense of importance like a membership into society's elite. Traditions passed down like Mardi Gras Balls in the Crystal Ballroom are honored here. Sequined costumes, giant floral arrangements, ornate decorations were embraced. Mobile is the birthplace of Mardi Gras and has its own twist to the celebration such as Moonpies that are commonly thrown off the ornate floats to the excited throngs during the annual Mardi Gras parades just outside the door. Like Mobile, The Battle House offers a vast array of great charm, rich diversity and dynamic idea. Fresh colors and sophisticated patterns compliment the traditional cultural feel, presented in a delightfully fresh and upscale manner.

Hyatt Regency Mission Bay
San Diego, CA

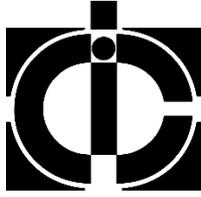

A nexus for busy convention travelers and adventure seeking vacationers. The Hyatt at Mission Bay overlooks a gleaming marina and the vast crystal blue pacific ocean. Visitors are literally drawn to the outdoor living lifestyle. Mission Bay, known as the playground of San Diego, offers an array of activities such as boating, surfing, swimming, fishing, and relaxing by the pool. Celebrating the independent nature of California, the design will embrace its individuality with a tailored, yet playful take on coastal design. Classic nautical details, such as weathered woods, braided knots, polished metals and bustling sails will be incorporated into subtle design elements. Maritime colors such as crisp whites and cobalt blues will seemingly merge the indoor and outdoor spaces. Playful tones and cheeky riffs on shape and proportion will define the spaces in a hotel that doesn't take itself too seriously. Along with the service one would expect at a Hyatt Regency. The updated design will elevate the experience with quiet sophistication and high end comfort.

Riverview Renaissance Hotel
Mobile, AL

The oldest city in the state of Alabama, Mobile is rich with history, cultural diversity, and culinary influences which are as unique as those that have passed through its ports in the last three centuries. This city's elegant traditional architecture draws from French, British, & Spanish colonial history which is then juxtaposed between the industrial maritime shipping ports that reside in Mobile Bay. As the only state in the country with natural resources to make iron and steel, it is no wonder Mobile Alabama is known for their shipbuilding. As distinguished as the city of itself, the timeless ornate European influenced elements and the rigid industrial modern forms unite to immerse the senses into an eclectic merger of the past and the present. Features of distressed damasks, worn concrete, and brick create rich textures and depth. The overall neutral envelope with modern theatrical pops of color, is reminiscent of an old ship and the rusty patina that adorns its hull. Whimsical maritime elements, transport guests from the hotel interior to the Mobile Bay.

THE JOHNSON STUDIO

COOPER CARRY

Ambar Restaurant – The Plaza Hotel Pioneer Park
El Paso, TX

Situated within the historic Pueblo Art Deco style hotel commissioned by Conrad Hilton in the late 1920's, our studio was tasked with creating a modern and vibrant food and beverage venue in the heart of the hotel's historic renovation. This began by reinstating the double-height lobby atrium space, which had been capped during a previous renovation. The focal back bar rises 40 feet high and displays one of the state's largest tequila collections behind a sheath of amber glass and polished stainless steel. Using a collection of historic resources, the design team developed a palette of rich walnut wood, jewel-tone mohair fabrics, warm brass metals, and restored terracotta flooring. Custom designed light fixtures borrow details from original lighting, while hand-tooled leather panels made by Mexican artisans evoke the distinct spirit of the place. Luxurious contemporary moments blended with rough-hewn Texas casual elegance create a truly unique and authentic dining experience.

Casa don Alfonso Restaurant – The Ritz-Carlton
St. Louis, MO

Our studio was tasked with an extensive renovation of the F&B spaces in The Ritz-Carlton St. Louis. The traditional spaces were to be reconfigured for a vibrant bar, restaurant, and expo kitchen that would bring new energy to the hotel and community. The new restaurant operator was to be a two-starred Michelin rated restaurant, Don Alfonso 1890. Our goal was to integrate the essence of the third-generation Italian restaurant on the Amalfi Coast with the traditional architecture of the existing hotel. The original Italian restaurant had a joie de vie vibe that was simultaneously luxurious and lighthearted. We wanted to honor the original family's philosophy and attitude.

Along with new lighter and brighter finishes, we put the artist chefs on stage with an expo kitchen and mirror polished ceiling. The result is an animated restaurant and convivial bar connected by the warmth and energy of the kitchen.

Rumi's Kitchen Restaurant – Colony Square
Atlanta, GA

Rumi's Kitchen Colony Square is the third restaurant collaboration between The Johnson Studio and Chef Ali Mesghali. Located in the heart of Atlanta, our team was tasked with creating an authentic vision of a modern Persian restaurant. Working closely with the owner, we pulled subtle, authentic details into the overall design to highlight the essence of Persian hospitality and culture.

The restaurant features an elegant, yet comfortable design, suitable for both a business lunch and a more intimate dinner. The movement of whirling dervishes, Persian calligraphy, and rustic old-world architectural elements inspired the design. Traditional gold and Persian blue are incorporated throughout, and Tandoori ovens on display in the expo kitchen provide warmth and hospitality. Guests can also enjoy the outdoor patio for a more casual experience with views of passerby.

Wycliffe Golf and Country Club
Wellington, FL

Our design intent was to create usable spaces to fit the membership lifestyle, while taking a dated design and making it more fresh, new, and modern. One design challenge for us was timing. The overall schedule spanned 3 years, 2 phases, and major renovations, all while the Club was open and fully operational. This included a brand new Spa and Fitness Center, a new destination-style Restaurant and expansion of the Lobby to include a new Bar and Lounge. Key features included a two-story water wall separating the Lobby from the new Bar and Lounge, new custom decorative lighting throughout, custom stained architectural ceiling and glass wine display at the new Restaurant. High-end finishes became the foundation for these key features that were complimented with intricately detailed custom furniture, luxurious fabrics and commissioned artwork. Creating a timeless design that members are sure to enjoy for years to come.

Boca West Country Club
Boca Raton, FL

Overall Project Goal: To update this clubhouse that had dark and dated finishes, furnishings and lighting to make it look new, light and fresh for daytime but moody and lounge like for evenings. We space planned the Lobby & Pre-Function Lounge with multiple seating groups creating small intimate areas that couple or larger parties could gather throughout.

Key Feature: The client had an outdated bar that was no longer used to seat and serve patrons. It was only used for service by the wait staff. We removed the overhang from the face of the bar so it would look more like a walk-up counter rather than a bar missing barstools. We also created a back bar that served as a focal point in the room by adding a large, oversized striking piece of artwork that could be seen from across the room. Additional features like custom sliding doors, leather wrapped panels at the face of the bar and accent lighting make what used to be a lifeless area come alive. High-end finishes became the foundation for these key features that were complimented with intricately detailed custom furniture, luxurious fabrics and commissioned artwork. Creating a timeless design that members are sure to enjoy for years to come.

Boca West Mr. D's
Boca Raton, FL

This project pushed our design talents outside of the box and our comfort zones. We were asked to help develop a Top Golf concept at Boca West Country Club with an open-air Restaurant and Bar. We found new sources, finishes, and outdoor vendors that inspired the black, white, and green color scheme. Black and white ceramic tiles lined the floor at the Bar. The countertop selected shows black veining on a stark white background. The back bar included green subway tiles with satin nickel etageres for glass storage. Vintage photos were added to the Restaurant and Restrooms to complete the look. Boxwood hedges created a natural privacy barrier between each of the 7 golf bays. Outdoor dining furniture was used throughout with a mix of lounge furniture added to the golf bays.

Grady Hotel
Louisville, KY

The Grady hotel, nestled in the heart of downtown Louisville's Market District, tells a 3-dimensional story of Louisville. Guests of the 51-key landmark destination enjoy the display of restored historic architectural details and learn about the interesting history of the building dating back to 1883. Guestrooms are carefully crafted and curated, providing a place for everything. Designed with comfort, beauty and convenience in mind, they feature unique custom furniture pieces and casegoods, specialty local goods in the mini bar and custom chandeliers. The artwork and amenities continue the overall storytelling approach to the artwork and accessories.

Terrace Hotel
Lakeland, FL

Originally opening its doors in 1924, The Terrace Hotel at Lakeland has lived many lives. The hotel was Lakeland, Florida's first hotel and the state of Florida's first year-round hotel due to the invention of air conditioning. The design inspiration gives a nod to its vivacious 1920s art deco history, featuring new finishes and eclectic furnishings while keeping vestiges of the hotel's original architecture. The first-floor lobby and on-site restaurant include original cypress ceilings, iconic black-tile floors and floor-to-ceiling windows. The hotel perfectly combines the memory of its once Old-World glamor with modern sophistication, incorporating the elegant lines of the Royal Family's swan descendants and the lush gardens and vibrant hues of the citrus groves nearby. All spaces mix new with classic and timeless elements to tie together the local flora, fauna and wildlife's color palette and textures, including lively shades of orange and cool, serene shades of blue.

Glenn Hotel
Atlanta, GA

Built in 1923, the 10-story Glenn Hotel is located in the heart of downtown Atlanta. To accomplish the client's main objective of creating a residentially-inspired hotel for guests to experience true southern hospitality, our team focused on featuring southern style, culture and landscape while creating an intimate and welcoming setting. In celebration of Atlanta's beginning as the city within a forest, there are 39 lionheads on the exterior cornice. Artwork and accents throughout repeat contrasting motifs, creating a scavenger hunt for guests. The reception area mimics an intimate library with a vintage-style reception desk and the rooftop lounge/bar is designed as an enchanted garden. The overall effect is a design that is a traditional yet new and dynamic space that is a microcosm of Atlanta – a city of rich history with a gracious, yet energetic southern charm and a layer of unexpected flair.

Marriott UNC
Charlotte, NC

The owners sought a hospitality destination true to its Charlotte roots and subtly boasts its connection to UNC. The ground-up hotel supports a range of needs for visitors to the University, including ample meeting and event space, a variety of room types to accommodate families, and social space for alumni to gather. The design team employed several strategies highlighting its connection to the land, UNC Charlotte and the city's gold rush legacy – textures in wallcoverings, 3D wood walls, pattern and texture in the floor tile, and the rich neutral color palette with green and blue accents. The two-story glass light installation connecting the ground floor with the lower level, and the movement in the carpet design nods to the nearby river. The University's heritage is celebrated with touches of green and gold in the carpet, gold accents in hardware and lighting, and with several views of UNC.

Marriott West

Recognized for its breathtaking scenery, this midland state has influenced the new design at the West Des Moines Marriott with themes of nature and discovery. New design elements throughout the hotel exhibit contoured lines mimicking the area's softly rolling hills, cascading rivers and expansive horizons. The expansive topography influenced the design for the large, open lobby and restaurant plans, providing unencumbered that connect the social gathering areas. A Mother's Earth color palette guided the material selections throughout the design. The revamp includes the renovation of approximately 27,000 SF of lobby, restaurant, lobby bar, M-Club, restrooms, ballrooms and meeting space, as well as 220 guest rooms and suites. The renovation was completed in 2021.

A LEADER IN HOSPITALITY DESIGN

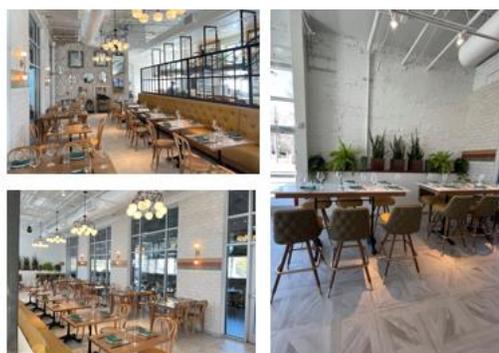

Grana
Atlanta, GA

Grana is a southern Italian restaurant that specializes in wood-fired Neapolitan pies and traditional Italian specialties. Our design choices were inspired by the building facades, materials, and finishes that are seen in Italy. The interiors reflect an outdoor experience, with an earthtone color palette and layers of rustic texture. The walls feature various types of stone, while tan and brown hexagon tile flooring blends seamlessly into the herringbone porcelain tile that runs throughout the dining room. A mural of Michaelangelo's David, oversized in scale, peers into the dining room through a brick window behind the bar. The bar features wood pilasters, mirror inserts, and indirect lighting to add drama to the space. The open kitchen provides a sense of theater, with the names of the owner's children displayed prominently on the wood-fired ovens.

C&S Seafood & Oyster Bar
Sandy Springs, GA

At C&S Seafood & Oyster Bar in Sandy Springs, we created a concept that is Art Deco made current. The atmosphere at C&S is sumptuous, so we used opulent materials throughout the design. The custom flooring is terrazzo, and the walls are clad in two shades of mahogany featuring intricate millwork and paneling. The banquettes and dining room chairs are upholstered in mohair, and the chandeliers are custom-made, inspired by a wedding cake in their design, with multiple layers that add a sense of grandeur to the dining room. The oyster station is a focal point of the restaurant, merchandising the fresh oysters and seafood, and allowing diners to watch their food being prepared.

Bastone
Atlanta, GA

Bastone is a wine-focused mozzarella bar featuring handmade pastas and craft cocktails. Our design was influenced by the fresh mozzarella that's served here, and that's reflected in the light and airy off-white interior. The focal point of the restaurant is the dual-purpose bar. The left side is a liquor bar with a wood front and maple top. The right side of the bar is where the chef creates flights of mozzarella on the custom quartz bar top. Timeless European influences are used throughout the restaurant, including the damask wallcovering, the bentwood chairs, and the round ball light fixtures. The gold tufted banquettes are weathered by design and feature contrasting red buttons, while the two-tone olive and gold tufted barstools are adorned with brass nailhead trim. Tile is featured prominently throughout the restaurant, with subway tile, mirrored tile, European-style tile, and basketweave tile all on display.
