NEWH LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Two years after hosting the NEWH Leadership Conference in Denver, members of the Rocky Mountain Chapter were excited for the opportunity to experience the magic of the conference again - this year, in Miami!

Not only were a number of our Board Members and members in attendance, we also had two of our incredible 2018 Student Scholarship recipients join. Both Katarina Nilsson and Quincy Gill proudly represented our local Chapter at this national level. These young leaders had the unique opportunity to connect with other recipients from across the nation with several conference events and sessions focused specifically on Scholarship, as well as extend their professional network and recognition through the entire NEWH organization.

The two day conference was jam-packed with an inspired array of speakers, captivating keynotes, intimate break out sessions and industry forward content, ample industry connection, and an energetic element of local flavor throughout. The Rocky Mountain Chapter is certainly returning home even more energized for 2019, and already looking forward to the next Leadership Conference in 2021.

Sundowner At Improper City, Denver

NEWH Rocky Mountain Chapter hosted their first tour/networking event of the year, featuring Improper City. The event was a guided tour by project Architect Amy Kiel, and Interior Designer Lauren Deffner of OZ Architecture. The space is very adaptable, “We want it to feel like a ‘Choose Your Own Adventure’ experience” said Hank Grant, one of Improper City’s owners. The space inhabits an old warehouse and features a bar with over 36 beers on tap, a coffee shop, and food truck park complete with firepits and cornhole (the 12,000SF patio space is currently the largest in Denver). If you happen to visit the space during the day, it will resemble somewhat of a co-working space without the high costs. “We don’t actually need you to spend money to be here,” one of the bar’s fliers reads, “Just do your thing.” The name was inspired by an English immigrant who made the statement that “Denver’s just this weird town on the Platte at the base of the Rocky Mountains, and we’ve been able to keep the city alive and thriving in what some would deem an improper place.” If you’ve never been, Improper City is definitely worth a visit!
